III Colóquio internacional: Natureza em foco

We are pleased to announce the 3rd Writing, Sound Image International Colloquium. Hosted by the Federal University of Minas Gerais (UFMG), Brazil, it is organized by professors of the School of Music, the School of Letters, the Fine Arts School, and the Department of Communication Studies. It will take place online, October 26- 29, 2021.

The three editions of the Colloquium have been organized by members of the Intermedia Research Group, coordinated by Dr. Thaís Flores Nogueira Diniz, aiming at the presentation and discussion of studies and artistic productions in the areas of Intermediality, Interarts Studies, and Intertextuality. The theme of the third edition of the colloquium is Nature, focusing especially on 5 topics.

During the event, there will be three types of presentations:

- Keynotes: lectures given by national and international researchers, whose work is notably relevant and congruent with the purposes of the Colloquium.
- Roundtables: oral communications delivered by national and international researchers.
- Creative/artistic productions: open call (Deadline: August 30th) to submissions of works addressing topics related to the theme of the event with the aim of promote and gather productions, individual or collective, which are produced in several media.
